Wall Street Geasts,

While the decline in stocks was in progress to-day Wall Street heard little except that foreigners were again figuidating reports on a large scale. Viginital progress to day wall street heard little except that foreigners were again figuidating reports on a large scale. Viginital progress and Berlin were in a blue funk over the war in Turkey. Tension was growing acute between the triple alliance and the triple entente, and there was really no good reason why England France and Russia, should not have it out with Germany. Austria and Italy, with the Balkan States and Turkey in between. Loose talk of this kind encouraged all the speculators who had hoped for Colonel Rosesvelt's election, and had lost their money and probably emanated from some such sources. At any mate in those international houses in which knowledge of conditions of the speculative temper sproad is ordinarily possessed, it was said foreign selling was inconsequential; and that these reports of foreign complications still pointed to an amicable, abelt somewhat protracted, adjustment of the differences.

RELIEF FROM POLITICS

Wall Street Glad That Campaign, With Its Agitation, Is Over.

New York Sovember 2.—There was a lively recurrence of the Balkan war. Scare to-day, of which the financial interest centred largely in our market The unfavorable news was of an extremely vague and intangible sort, mostly consisting of rumers of friction between the powers as to the proposed division of the Balkan terrised that is take place.

Bull while all this caused violent deciliae on the stock exchange, it produced only a moderate degree of unsettlement observation, there was allitty selling of stocks here for European account. This movement boreal the earmarks of a professional risk of Control and County of Control and Cou

Although no surprise was shown over the government's final estimate of the government's final estimate of the corn crop as being 3,163,000,000 bushels in excess of the October estimate, the announcestient, nevertheless, did not serve to curtail the optimism now universally current on the business circles.

Citizens in this city remarked yesterday: "I haven't seen any of your ads. lately. I miss them. What's the matter?

"Been too busy writing wills and talking to men about their wills, to write ads."!

One of our experiences during the past week brought forcibly to mind the great importance of a man's making a will when in health.

It is a mistake to wait until he is old and on a sick bed to attend to this important matter.
